MEET THE GOVERNOR - Tracey McMahon

I have loved Priory Infant School from the first moment my two daughters set foot inside. They flourished in their education here and both have now moved on to Christchurch Junior School.

I used to work for a leading retailer as an assistant section manager for 20 years until I had my 2 girls. As I decided not to return to work, I have taken on more roles to keep myself busy. I am a licenced chaperone for a performing arts school that my children attend so I have great experience working with younger children and I get to travel to different theatres in the UK with them. I also volunteer to work in their dancewear shop. I am a keen fundraiser for the same dance school making cakes, selling gifts, and generally thinking up more fund raising ideas. I have recently returned to ballet and tap classes myself at the same school to keep myself fit and have a little bit of 'me time'. I love spending time with my girls though and love finding free/cheap educational activities to do with them especially in the school holidays. I like watching dramas and going to the theatre as well.

I am enjoying my busy role as Attendance Governor. I believe every child should have the best possible start in their school career and what better school to start at than Priory Infants.
